As we journey towards Reconciliation as a school community at ASAA we were fortunate enough to join Setsune Lynda and other Elders from Cold Lake First Nations net fishing on Cold Lake for a day. Our grade 5 & 6 French Immersion class spent the day on the ice having a wonderful learning experience with our Elders.

Lunch was provided by the Elders. Fish were kissed, lessons and memories were made. We are one step further along our journey to Reconciliation.

Thank you Mr. Boychuk for inviting Goota Desmarais to CLES! She brought all the students an amazing presentation on Inuit culture and sport! The kids were so excited to taste Narwhal and Arctic Char!

CLES staff have taught meaningful lessons this year with Indigenous Literature. Thank you Mrs. Perry for sharing the story, "Smile So Big" by Sunshine Quem Teasco & Chief Lady Bird. A little girl comes home feeling sad, and so with a special mirror gifted by an Elder, her mother helps her see her smiling face smile back. All the Kindergarten students at CLES made their own mirrors and were able to celebrate their beautiful reflections, unique smiles and specialness!!!

On March 11, nearly 40 students and staff from Cold Lake High School embarked on an extraordinary trip to the Cold Lake First Nations (CLFN) traditional hunting and fishing areas, located within the Cold Lake Air Weapons Range. This visit, a rare opportunity for many, was made possible through the invitation of Nathan Carrier, a CLFN member, turning an Outdoor Education trip into a profound experience of traditional knowledge exchange.

BLUE QUILLS OPEN HOUSE

A group of CLHS students attended the Blue Quills University Open House on Wednesday, March 13. Students were informed of the history of the building as a Residential School, while seeing the transformation into a post-secondary option. This trip was initiated by 4 CLHS alumni who now work for CLFN in the Education Department.

Culture Club - Students are invited to join our staff once a week in exploring and learning about different cultures that are in our community. These celebrations involve research into the culture, celebrations, and often food!

Learning from the Land

CLJH students spend time each week learning about the land with our Outdoor Education teacher.

The Seven Teachings Stories Series explores the teachings and beliefs of the Anishinaabe, referred to as the “Seven Sacred Teachings.” Duclos students in 2H explored the Seven Teachings through stories of love, wisdom, humility, courage, respect, honesty, and truth. Each teaching engaged students in a shared story, craft and discussion. Thank you to Successful Families, Successful Kids Wellness Coaches Donna-Lee Wowk and Pam Cameron for bringing this valuable learning experience to our class.

Round Dance 2024

Thank you to Portage College for hosting a Round Dance on March 12th. Students from JAWS and other schools were welcomed to watch the pipe ceremony, and participate in the Round Dance. One of the speakers complimented the crowd as one of the most attentive he has seen in 14 years. Our students really appreciated this opportunity.

"Our students must see themselves in the curriculum and in the learning environment. Leaders must lead to ensure this happens. Community must never be left out. This is Indigenous educational leadership."

LEARNING TOGETHER ANYWHERE

In collaboration with Canadian Tire Jumpstart and TC Energy, students from LTA have been actively involved in our innovative project, Land-Based Learning from an Indigenous Perspective. Throughout the program, students have taken part in swimming lessons, skiing, and tubing activities. During these activities, students are developing their identity of being physically active through connecting with the land and its elements. Additionally, students visited Metis Crossing, where they participated in informative sessions, a bison tour, and listened to storytelling from an Elder, exploring the wonders of the stars and constellations.

Indigenous perspectives on the cosmos highlight the interconnectedness of all existence, emphasizing a holistic understanding of the universe. Rooted in cultural traditions and spiritual beliefs, these perspectives view the cosmos not just as a physical space but as a living entity closely tied to human life and the natural world. Through storytelling, ceremonies, and traditional knowledge, Indigenous communities convey profound insights about the origins of the universe and humanity's place within it.

Elder Hazel

We have enjoyed listening to Elder Hazel as she tells stories about many things.

Indigenous people have long passed on knowledge from generation to generation through oral traditions, including storytelling. Storytelling teaches history, values, beliefs and ways of life.
